TWELVE-YEAR ROMANCE ENDS IN VIOLENT DEATH

Battered Body of Nurse Found in Apartment of Drink-Sodden New York Physician.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The Herald says: Tragic culmination of a romance which began twelve years ago in Bellevue Hospital was revealed yesterday afternoon when the body of Miss Nellie S. Kenna, a graduate nurse, was found terribly bruised and battered in the apartment of Dr. Benjamin H. Searing in the Welford apartments, No. 56 West 11th street. Pending the autopsy Dr. Searing is a prisoner at Bellevue Hospital, where he is under treatment for acute alcoholism.

When the police entered the West 11th street apartment Miss Kenna's body was found, nearly nude, crumpled up on the floor, face down. Deep abrasions were evident all over the upper part of the body and cuts about the head and a fracture of the nose made the features unrecognizable.

Rooms Littered With Bottles. The body was in the bedroom of the apartment, which consisted of two rooms and bath. In the front room Dr. Searing, in a helpless state, lay on the floor. Throughout the two rooms were strewn whisky, champagne and beer bottles, cigars and almost endless refuse.

It was learned that for three weeks neither of the occupants of the apartment had left it. In that time more than $75 worth of beer and other liquors had been sent to the apartment. As Dr. Searing left the house to get into the ambulance some remark made by a policeman startled him and he gasped: "My God! don't tell me that she is dead."

Again efforts to question Dr. Searing were fruitless and he was hurried to the hospital.

GERMAN FLEET IS BACK AT ITS BASE, IS CLAIM

Fifty Warships in Squadron Sighted in North Sea, According to Reports.

LONDON, March 9.—The German fleet returned to its base this morning, says Reuters' Yumden correspondent, telegraphing Wednesday.

A Dutch trawler which was searched by one of the warships, the correspondent adds, "reports that many of the vessels had a peculiar appearance. Those carrying several funnels had a sternmost funnel painted yellow or covered with yellow cloth, while the other funnels were gray."

Fleet of Fifty Vessels.

The morning newspapers publish from their correspondents in Scotland such details as are available there regarding the recent activity of the German fleet in the North Sea. According to these accounts, the fleet included about fifty craft of all descriptions, from the most modern dreadnaughts down to old-fashioned torpedo boats.

The fleet was escorted by two Zepelins, which served as scouts to prevent a surprise attack by hostile vessels. One trawler sighted this fleet 165 miles due west of the mouth of the Elbe. Another saw it thirty-five miles northwest of Yumden.

Invisible at Short Distance.

All the German ships were painted a war-gray and were invisible at a short distance. Heavy clouds of smoke frequently hid them completely.

One Dutch trawler is quoted as having made the following report: "During the recent air raid on England a Zeppelin was seen scouting in advance of three cruisers and a fleet of destroyers and submarines which were believed to have the intention of making a dash for the English coast. However, made certain discoveries regarding the watchfulness of the British fleet and the German squadron hastily withdrew."

VISITS MAY HAVE BEEN IN INTEREST OF PEACE

Archbishop Ireland's Second Call at White House Within a Week Causes Speculation.

Archbishop Ireland's second visit to the White House within a week has caused considerable speculation as to the object of his visits. The suggestion is given credence that his mission has something to do with a discussion of peace overtures.

It is recalled that during the Spanish-American war and during the Russian-Japanese war this distinguished prelate held repeated secret conferences with Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt.

Although it was officially stated at the White House yesterday that Archbishop Ireland came merely to pay his respects to the President, many in official circles fostered the supposition that in view of Pope Benedict's renewed efforts to mediate for peace the general subject and prospects of peace were going into thoroughly. It is intimated even that the churchman may have carried a message to President Wilson from the Pope. Archbishop Ireland declines to confirm any such reports.

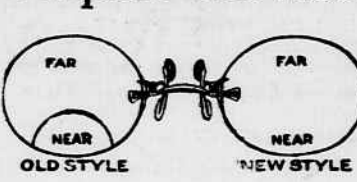

FOREIGN AFFAIRS HELD LEADING ISSUE IN U. S.

LONDON, March 9.—"A great feature of the present American situation," says the Times, editorially, "is that for almost the first time foreign affairs have become the leading issue in American politics. The students in Europe of American affairs have long foreseen that this result was inevitable. They anticipated, however, that the process might be slow, and even now foreign affairs may again subside into the background. But the fact remains that for the present both republicans and democrats are making foreign affairs the chief subject of their appeal to the people and that both approach them in a spirit of elevated idealism."

GREECE TO ASSIMILATE ALBANIAN PROVINCES

ATHENS, March 9.—The Greek government has decided to proceed to the complete financial and administrative assimilation by Greece of the provinces of northern Epirus, in Albania, deputies from which have already been seated in the Greek chamber.
